The meeting was called to order in ton and Williams.

The meeting was called to order in the reception room, with the officers and employes present. Superintendent Davis, in the name of the officials of the institution, unveiled a portrait of the chairman, Mr. Marx Gunst, accompanying the unveiling with a short address, in which he spoke of the untiring labors and devoted zeal of Mr. Gunst for the relief of the city's poor, and of their love and affection for him. Mr. Gunst was taken entirely by surprise, but responded in a few earnest remarks, saying that he reciprocated fully the sentiments expressed towards him.

The portrait is hung on the walls of the reception room. It is a fine likeness of Mr. Gunst, executed by Mr. W. W. Foster.

picture of himself, also by Foster. Mr. Davis was completely taken by surprise, but was equal to the occasion, and expressed his gratitude for that evidence of their honor and esteem.

Superintendent and Mrs. Davis then invited the committee to their home, next to the almshouse, where delightful light refreshments were served. The occasion was very much enjoyed by every one.
